This is a strong statement to make, but it is exactly what Mrs. Thomas Taylor, of Blum, Texas, said in expressing her opinion of this remedy.

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine raised me from the grave and I have much confidence in it. I can never say enough for your grand medicines. If anyone had offered me $100.00 for the second bottle of Nervine that I used I would have said 'no indeed!'"

MRS. THOMAS TAYLOR,

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST LAWYER

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Raleigh, N. C., December 1.—A sensational case was tried in the Federal court here today, when Judge H. G. Connor directed the clerk of the court to write Ed. S. Abell, a well-known attorney of Johnston county, telling him to appear and show why he is not in contempt of court through having procured yesterday the continuance of a case by exhibiting to the court a telegram which he said he had received from his daughter in Smithfield, to the effect that Mrs. Abell was very ill, and that he must come home at once. An investigation on the part of the government officials has developed the fact that no such telegram was received here for Mr. Abell, and that there was no such telegram filed for him in the telegraph office at Smithfield.

Court officers say there were things about the telegram shown yesterday that aroused suspicion, hence the investigation and resulting affidavit from the telegraph office that it had transmitted no such message.

Judge Connor started from the bench that lawyers practicing in the Federal court must live up to the standards of character required by the State court that license them before they come to practice in the Federal court. He said a lawyer of a nearby town came here earlier in the week and became so intoxicated as to be unable to appear in court, and finally went home, leaving his clients without counsel for impending trial. The judge made it clear that his court will not stand for such conduct as this and as in the case he was discussing.

ORPHANAGE ENDS ITS FIRST DECADE

One of Leading Interests of Methodist Conference—Day's Proceedings.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Elizabeth City, N. C., December 1.—The Methodist Orphanage, which was established ten years ago in Raleigh, is an interest of the North Carolina Conference, than which no interest has stronger hold upon the entire body. Twelve years ago, the first dollar was contributed toward this enterprise. That first dollar was contributed by Rev. W. W. Rose, a member of this conference. It was given to the late Rev. J. W. Jenkins, and two years later Mr. Jenkins founded the orphanage, became its first superintendent, and continued to direct the work of the orphanage until his death, only one child there has died, that death having resulted from an operation.

Rev. J. N. Cole is the present superintendent of the orphanage, and he is assisted in the work by one matron, four assistant matrons, three teachers and one farmer. The orphanage is located in the suburbs of Raleigh, and at the present time 112 children are being cared for and trained there. There is system in all of the work, and the children are carefully trained, intellectually and in industrial work as well. The boys are being trained to perform different parts of the work on the farm, and the farm is reducing the living expenses of the orphanage. The girls are being trained to become capable housekeepers.

The value of the orphanage is estimated at $110,000 at present, and it has an endowment fund of $250,000. A steam laundry is now under course of construction, and when the laundry is completed, the work of erecting buildings especially for the boys will be commenced. The superintendent has been compelled to refuse admittance into the orphanage of 160 children this year on account of the lack of room.

Bishop Hendrix called the conference to order at 9 o'clock this morning. He delivered the second in his series of devotional addresses on the subject of "Sunken Ideals," using the character of Lot as the basis of his remarks. He designated Lot as an example of a backslidden layman, a man who might have been a man of the equal strength of character with Abraham, because he had the same opportunities, had he only made use of them. He showed that Lot had failed to put first things first in his life, and the decline of his character had followed, and he became an example of the uselessness of salt that has lost its savor.

"The greatest need of the church today," said Bishop Hendrix, "is a genuine revival in the membership of the church, and a revival in the membership of the church in the greatest revival that could be described, and the revival in the erection of family altars."

He made an earnest plea in behalf of the family altar and its influence upon the life of individuals, and in the entire home.

After the minutes of the session of yesterday had been read and approved, Bishop Hendrix called Question 1: "Who are admitted on trial?" and seven applicants were admitted. Answering Question 2: "Who are received by transfer from other conferences?" Bishop Hendrix announced that J. A. Swain, from the South Georgia Conference; J. D. Phillips, from the South Carolina Conference; and M. D. Hix, from the Western North Carolina Conference, had been received by transfer into this conference.

Methodist Protestant Church; J. W. Frank, a traveling preacher in the Methodist Protestant Church, and J. J. Lewis, a traveling preacher in the Methodist Episcopal Church, were received into the conference.

Six traveling preachers were elected deacons, and ten traveling preachers were elected elders. Eight members of the class of the first year were advanced to the class of the second year.

The report of the Raleigh Christian Advocate and of the Methodist Orphanage were read and referred to the proper committees. J. R. Stewart addressed the conference in the interest of the superannuated endowment fund, and J. L. Cunningham, secretary of the correspondence school, represented that school and the board of education, also to the church.

This afternoon the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the conference held an enthusiastic meeting.

Dr. D. B. Zollinger, leader of the movement in the conference, presided, and Dr. M. Bolton was secretary. A committee of two members from each of the nine districts in the conference was appointed a committee to nominate a conference leader to succeed Dr. Zollinger, who has served ten years in this capacity, and decline re-election. The nominating committee will report at a later meeting.

The anniversary of the Sunday school board was held this evening. The speaker was Frank Brown, of New York, who is superintendent of what is said to be the largest Methodist Sunday school in the world.

WOULD ESTABLISH MORE TOLL GATES

Valley Turnpike Company Desires to Collect From Local Travel.

FIVE TOWNS ARE AFFECTED

Petition Is Before Corporation Commission—Holland's Expense Account.

Claiming that it is unable to collect tolls from local travel near certain important towns in the Valley of Virginia, because the people ride or drive out of the toll gates, and return without passing through, the Valley Turnpike Company has filed a petition before the State Corporation Commission asking to be permitted to erect additional gates for the collection of tolls.

This action is taken under the provisions of an amendment to the general law regarding turnpikes, passed at the last session of the Legislature, which gives the Corporation Commission authority to authorize the erection of additional toll gates on the Valley Turnpike under the circumstances stated in this instance. A special session of the act refers to this road, because of the fact that the Commonwealth owns an interest in it.

The litigation will naturally be of the greatest interest to the people of the towns whence tolls are desired. It also to some extent touches the general toll gate question, which was argued at such length in the last Legislature.

The Committee on Roads and Internal Navigation of the House of Delegates took a firm stand against toll gates anywhere in the maintenance of the position it reported unfavorably several bills designed to permit new gates, notably a bill favored by the Augusta county delegation, regarding the roads in that county. When the act came up on its passage, Speaker Byrd got on the floor and spoke for its passage, making the argument that it was a local measure, and that he stood for local option. The bill passed in spite of considerable opposition.

Other local bills providing for the establishment of toll gates were also enacted, and the measure over the votes and protest of the Roads Committee.

Those who oppose toll gates said they were a relic of dark ages, and had no place in a modern State. On the other hand, one of the advocates of toll gates said that it was necessary to have such a provision to raise money to keep up the roads which are being built.

In the petition, which was presented by Speaker R. E. Byrd, counsel for the Valley Turnpike Company, it is set forth that the concern has found local conditions such that it is unable to collect tolls to any considerable extent from travel on certain sections of road. The portions referred to are just south of the towns of Strasburg, Edinburg and Woodstock, and just north of the towns of New Market and Harrisonburg.

Local travel, continues the petition, cuts into the turnpike receipts between existing toll gates, thus causing the payment of tolls. The people of these towns ride or drive as far as the nearest toll gate, and return, without passing through the gate. This is said to cause considerable wear and tear on the road, and the company is without compensation therefor.

Locate Later. It is impractical, it is declared, to name the exact location where gates should be put, because the company cannot acquire the land for the location of gates in advance of the completion of the commission. It thinks therefore, that the statement as to the towns and the direction is sufficiently definite to have the legislation act and order the gates, and that later the exact location could be reported and made a part of supplementary order. The presumption is that they would be put close to the towns.

Therefore, the company prays that it be permitted to erect a toll gate within half a mile of each of the towns named. The petition is signed by H. F. Byrd, president of the concern.

MUST REPORT EXPENSES

Accounts to Precede Commissions—Holland Spent $410.75.

Commissions have not yet been issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the Commissioners of the County of Loudoun, but they will go out within a few days. They cannot be issued, however, until each successful man has filed his expense account. Representatives Tarrill, Saunders and Siemp have not as yet been heard from, but they have until December 8 to put themselves in line for official commissions. The other seven men elected have filed their accounts.

General statements from defeated candidates are also missing. The statement of Congressman-Elect E. E. Holland, of the Second District, was received yesterday. It shows that he expended $410.75, divided as follows: Rent of theatre in Portsmouth and expenses of meeting, $190; printing bills and other legitimate expenses in Norfolk city, $149.50; traveling expenses, $50.00; hotel expenses, $75.00; paid A. H. Baker for notices, $13.25; contributed to State Democratic Committee, $25; to local headquarters, $25.

Capital People. Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams was at Rocky Mount, Franklin county, yesterday, addressing a meeting of Confederate veterans. Adjutant-General W. W. Sale, who has been coming to the State with a severe cold, is improving. State Auditor Morton Myrle is in better health and is up and about his office. He has not yet ventured out of doors.

The annual report of State Dairy and Food Commissioner W. D. Saunders has been completed and is ready for the printer. For the most part it consists of lists of analyses made during the year.

Reorganization Sale!

Started on schedule time, and was a success from the jump. It was no surprise to us that the crowd was large and buying free and customers pleased, for the reason that no such low prices have been placed on reliable goods in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. We are free to confess that it marks a change of heart—this giving of low prices in the busy month of December—when other stores have thought only of profit.

The reorganization of this business immediately after the first of the year makes it necessary to sacrifice the large, well assorted and thoroughly reliable stock to make the needed changes made necessary by the sale of this business.

The first day's selling has uncovered few weak spots, for the reason that our stocks were large, but even these have been strengthened.

We give below a partial list of some of the bargain tables which have found favor in the eyes of our customers. Come see for yourself the tremendous values and money-saving prices on this splendid merchandise.
